ACROSS THE SEA — Countries banning kosher meat are forcing ‘expulsion’ of Jews, says U.S. anti-Semitism envoy: “The United States envoy against anti-Semitism has condemned the spread of legislation in Europe that limits the slaughter of animals according to Jewish religious tradition as ‘disgraceful’ and ‘intolerable,’ claiming such laws are forcing the expulsion of Jewish communities. Elan Carr, President Donald Trump’s anti-Semitism ambassador, made the comments while speaking at the Conference of European Rabbis in the Belgian city of Antwerp, Monday... “This is nothing but a forced expulsion of Jewish communities from the countries that adopt such legislation. A forced expulsion and it is intolerable,’ Carr said.” [Newsweek]
