Rav Yitzchak Yosef, Israel's Sephardi chief rabbi, used his visit to Antwerp to visit some of the local mosdos. His primary reason for being in the city was to attend a convention of the Conference of European Rabbis. The Rishon Letzion met with the rabbonim of both kehillas, Rav Dovid Moshe Lieberman, rav of the Shomrei Hadass and Rav Ahron

Schiff, rav of the Machzikei Hadass. Rav Yosef also visited the Belz and Viznitz Yeshivos ketana.

As reported last week, the CER convention gathered close to three hundred community rabbis from Europe in the Hilton Hotel and amongst other matters focused on empowering them to take responsible decisions in cases of giyur and other matters that impact the future integrity of Klal Yisroel.
