Top Rabbi Warns Facebook, Twitter and Other Social Media Giants Are Failing to Tackle Deadly Anti-Semitism

Newsweek | 2d

Social media giants such as Facebook and Twitter are failing to deal with anti-Semitism and other forms of racist hatred on their platforms, a top rabbi has warned. Chief Rabbi Pinchas Goldschmidt of Moscow, Russia, who is president of the Conference of European Rabbis, an orthodox alliance of more than 700 synagogue leaders, said the social networks' failure to address hate speech endangers minority groups, who face greater risks as the far right rises.
